Blue Behavior

A blue cartoon character with large, round glasses and a white turtleneck sweater. The character has a thoughtful expression, with one hand near their chin. The character is semi-transparent, allowing the text to be seen through them.

- Prefer to keep others at a distance
- Sit or stand
- Limited body language
- Look directly in the eyes
- Do not gesture

The background features two characters. On the left is a pink, furry character with a grey jacket, a small grey hat, and a large, bushy purple tail. It has its arms raised in a joyful gesture. On the right is a character with short, spiky blue hair, large blue eyes, and a yellow dress with a blue starburst pattern. The text is centered over both characters.

Effective Communication with Different Personality Colors

What red expects

Speed and directness

Reds expect quick action and direct response. Avoid unnecessary stories, and focus on specific tasks and results.

Focus on the present

Reds focus on the current point of discussion. Stick to the topic and avoid straying into other subjects.

Decisiveness and commitment

Reds appreciate decisiveness and commitment. Express your opinion clearly and firmly, and show that you care.

How to adapt to yellows

Creating a positive atmosphere

Yellows value a pleasant and calm atmosphere. It's important to maintain a good mood and avoid conflicts in their presence.

Focus on ideas and visions

Yellows are creative and innovative. It's important to take an interest in their ideas. Avoid excessive details and focus on long-term vision in communication with them.

Positive reinforcement

Yellows need recognition and praise. It's important to appreciate their achievements and boost their ego. Avoiding public criticism helps maintain good relationships and motivates them to stay engaged.

How to adapt to greens

Providing a sense of security

Greens fear change and dislike uncertainty. It's important to create a stable and predictable environment that provides them with a sense of security.

Avoiding conflicts and friction

Greens avoid conflicts and difficult situations. In communication with them, it's important to stay calm and avoid escalating discussions.

Stability and predictability

It's always good to know what to expect. Greens have a need to control events.

How to adapt to blues

Thoroughness and attention to detail

People with a blue personality type expect others to also prepare thoroughly and present information thoughtfully.

Focus on quality

Blues place a high emphasis on quality and accuracy in task execution. It is important to pay attention to the quality of work and provide precise information, as carelessness can be viewed unfavorably.

Realism and a rational approach

Blues prefer a rational, fact-based approach. They do not make decisions based on intuition or emotions. They appreciate a realistic approach and thorough planning.
